Dear Families,

This afternoon, the mayor and chancellor announced a temporary transition to remote learning for all students as of Thursday, November 19, 2020.

Our school has been preparing for this for some time, our teachers have made packets in anticipation of a transition, we have worked closely with the students exhibiting technology issues to resolve them, and we will be here tomorrow to continue handing out resources.

Tomorrow, blended-remote students will follow their schedules similar to Election Day. Remote only students are not affected by this transition. Teachers will explicitly post information and schedules to ensure all students attend synchronous lessons during the day. If you need specific support, please know you can email the teachers at any time, just to be mindful they may not see the email until their office hours or prep time later in the day. The school will continue to have breakfast and lunch available between 9am-noon.

The main office will be open from 8:30am-2:00pm.

Please continue to follow the news, our schools' Twitter or the teacher's Google classroom for updates.

While so many things are uncertain, please know we have been preparing for this and we got this!

Stay well, wear a mask, and keep physical distance as much as possible.

Sincerely,
Laura Avakians
Principal
